BALGE BROWN BROWN

NutriSpot. We are an innovative company in the food industry focused on the athlete. One of our major assets is our over 23-year experience in developing products derived from bananas.

Our concern to please and help the athlete in his long hours of exercise has led us to design products that are a healthy source of energy and 100% natural.

As connoisseurs of the nutritional value of bananas, we decided to potentiate its benefits through processes that can extract the best of the fruit. Thus, after a few years and several attempts, we are pleased to bring Bango products to market. The Bango brand name represents our way of thinking about Sports Nutrition and designing products that incorporate the nutritional value of bananas in exercise routines, without losing quality, taste and texture.

With Bango products ("bananas" to take with you), the athlete will always have a source of healthy and natural energy at all times.

Sports Gel Bango is composed of banana and coconut water; due to its texture, you may consume it without water because it is not sticky and leaves no residue in the mouth. Absorption is faster than other gels in the market, because of its 100% natural composition

The 30g presentation is easy to open and you can purchase it per unit or per six-pack.
